LADIES MUST SPLIT THE WOOD

Members Of Fair Sex Will Be Given An Opportunity July First To Demonstrate Their Ability With The Axe—Good Program Arranged.

There is small doubt that, if the truth were known, most men firmly believe that splitting the fire-wood is as much a part of the household duties as washing the dishes is. It is quite certain, however, that while thousands of men willingly go to the front to fight Germans mighty few of us have the courage to broach the wood-splitting proposition to the lady of the house.

Yet the committee in charge of the Dominion Day celebration in Coleman have decided to start the ball rolling and will take the first step towards initiating wife into the mysteries and pleasures of the Ancient Order of Wood Splitters by putting up a substantial cash prize for an event that is named on the official program as "Ladies' Wood-Splitting Contest."

The women are to run a distance of twenty-five yards (just about the average distance from the house to wood-pile) split a block of wood and carry the finished product back to the place of starting.

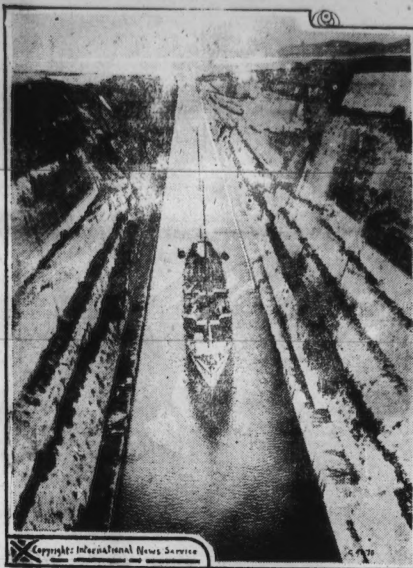

It should be mentioned in connection with this event that the chairman of the committee—himself a bachelor pro tem—declares that women are just as capable of handling an axe on a wood-pile as they are of handling the ballot. And since he has taken this laudable stand it is very much up to the fair sex to back him up by freely entering for this event.

The Dominion Day celebration committee has its plans well in shape already and it is safe to assert even at this early date that July first next will be a red letter day in Coleman. An elaborate program has been arranged. It has received the approval of the town council—who are backing the celebration in every way—and after it is polished up a little, will be published in these columns.

The committee will give good prizes for every competition, and all prizes will be paid in cash. The merchants of the town are not to be asked for donations of either goods or cash. It is believed that this program can be carried through without taxing the generosity of anyone, and it is hoped that the business men will show their appreciation of this position on the part of the committee by getting in line and doing

Further particulars will be given in the Bulletin each week. In the meantime, our readers should not forget the dance to be held on June 30th in the opera house here, under the auspices of the above committee. The Stokes orchestra has been engaged for this event, which will be under the direction of Mr. E. Disney as floor manager. Keep the date open.

FRANK NEWS

Marshall Hamilton, wife and family, leave on Monday for New Glasgow, N. S., where they will reside in future.

A new pump and motor has just been installed by the Franco-Canadian Coal Co. here. This new equipment was necessary in order to cope with the water in the mine.

Edward Atkinson arrived in Frank on Wednesday from Indian Head, Sask.

Rev. Arthur Barner conducted missionary services in the Methodist church here on Sunday evening. There was a good congregation present. During the evening Mrs. Smith, of Hillcrest, sang "Abide With Me" in a very acceptable manner.

COLEMAN MAN MAKES SUPREME SACRIFICE FOR HIS COUNTRY

Private "Jack" Price Killed in Action Somewhere in France Early in May—Family Here Received Official Notification This Week—Was Member of 54th Kootenay Battalion.

Private "Jack" Price is the first Coleman man to give up his life in defence of his country, word having reached his wife and family here on Wednesday morning that he had been killed in action on May 7th.

Private Price was born in the north of Ireland thirty-nine years ago, and came to Canada when he was eight years old. His people settled in Nova Scotia, where Jack remained until about ten years ago, when he came to Coleman and had been employed in the mines here until the out-break of the war.

He enlisted for active service with the 54th Kootenay battalion at Fernie on May 13th, 1915, so that he was permitted to serve with his battalion a few days less than one year. He was one of the first English speaking married men to enlist from Coleman, and that he took this step from a sheer sense of duty was clearly indicated by a conversation which he had with a local professional man a few days after he had signed on.

"What on earth possessed you—a man with a large family—to enlist, Jack?" was the query put to him by this man.

"Well, I'll tell you: If we married men wait here for some of these unmarried men to go first, we are going to lose this war."

So he followed the path of duty as he saw it, and the shock which the news of his death must bring to his wife and family here may be softened to some extent by the knowledge that if any man was ever entitled to have it said of him, Jack Price certainly will be remembered by all who knew him as a man who did his duty for his country.

A wife and a young family of six children survive him here. To these The Bulletin extends sincerest sympathy and feels that it is speaking for every man, woman and child in the place in so doing.

Private Jack Price has made the supreme sacrifice—he made it for us all.

Misses Alyce Beck and Alice Allen have both passed their probationers' examination at the Maple Creek hospital. Congratulations.

PASS MEN MET IN FRANCE

Frank, May 17.—Rev. W. T. Young has recently received a letter from Rev. Cook, formerly of Bellevue. Rev. Cook, it will be remembered, joined the 9th Ambulance Corps, and is now in France. The letter states that the first man Rev. Cook saw when he landed in France was Rev. Anglin, formerly of Hillcrest, now a member of the 4th University Corps.

There will be a celebration in Blairmore on the 24th of May under the auspices of the 192nd battalion, commencing at 10 a. m. Field sports, football and baseball are included in the program. Every town in The Pass should be well represented at these events.

Died, in Coleman, on Friday, May 5th, Maflida, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Choy. Funeral on Sunday, May 7th.

CHINAMAN TAKES TRIP VERY WELL OUTFITTED

Mar Lee, a Chinaman more or less well known throughout The Pass, died at the Coleman hospital on Thursday morning of last week, and was buried at Blairmore the next afternoon amid all the pomp and ceremony which usually attends the interment of any of the sons of Confucius.

Mar Lee was for a long time chief cook at the Passburg hotel and made something of a local reputation for himself while there employed. Since the hotel went up in a blaze of glory, Mar had not been worried very much with regular employment. Indeed, he is reputed to have had all he needed of this world's goods and then some. But you never can tell.

The funeral was attended by all the Chinamen of the district, and there were a lot of them.

GEORGE DICK IS COMING HOME

Coleman Man, a Black Watch Reservist, Has Served Period For Which He Enlisted And Expects to Return Home in a Few Weeks.

George Dick, who went to join his regiment, the Black Watch, in the Old Country as soon as war was declared, has served the full period for which he enlisted and is now in India. He has written to his family here stating that he has applied for his discharge and expects to return to Coleman in a short time.

He had actually booked his passage on a certain boat, but the vessel was taken over by the admiralty and George has been compelled to wait for another ship. He is well apparently, and will visit with some relatives in Scotland on his way home to Canada. His family here are naturally impatient for his return, but are thankful that he has been spared the fate which has befallen so many thousands of other men.

It will be remembered that George Dick was severely wounded in the head on October 29th, 1914, but after receiving his wound he "stayed on the job" until the Germans had been driven back eleven miles. He was in an English hospital for some time after that. Then he was on home guard duty for a while, after which he was sent to Egypt.

In a letter to "his family here at the time he was wounded, Mr. Dick says in part:

"That was when I got hit and they made me so mad I got up and cussed them for everything. An officer told me to go to the hospital, but I stayed where I was and just waited for good marks, and then I did not forget to shoot straight."

"So we hung there for about on hour and no help came. We had to retire again to the ditch with a great loss of men, but we held on there until 3 o'clock in the afternoon, when help arrived. Then we drove them back 11 miles. That was where I had to quit as I was getting dizzy from loss of blood. But I sure got my own back before I caved in."

No religious service was held, but Mar's friends were prepared to go President Wilson one better in the matter of "preparedness." The departed Chinaman was outfitted at the grave with a goodly quantity of wine, some whiskey, cigars, cigarettes, a roast of pork, a roast chicken, a copy of the last issue of The Bulletin, and a bagful of real coin of the realm. If that assortment doesn't see Mar through to wherever dead Chinamen go, then there is absolutely nothing in the policy of "preparedness"—not a single little thing.

The Edmonton Journal publishes a dispatch from Ottawa to the effect that James K. Cornwall, the well-known former member of the legislature for Peace River, has been appointed commanding officer of the 218th battalion.

Farmer's Income

A Fuller Utilization of All the Farm's Resources Should Be Made

Extensive investigations into the profits of farming have indicated that the amount of money which the average farmer receives for this year's work is little more than that which he would be paid if he sold his land and put it as a farm hand to one of his neighbors. In other words, though the farmer is in business for himself, the average farmer gets little or no money reward for the intelligence and skill with which he has managed his affairs or the risk and responsibility he has assumed. But he must get something in return or no one would trouble to farm for himself. A recent study conducted by experts in the United States Department of Agriculture shows that in many cases this reward may best be found in the products with which his farm furnishes him directly. When a farm is nearly, if not quite, self-sustaining, when it supplies the family that lives upon it with much of the necessities of life, a large money income is not necessary to prosperity. A greater gain derived from the land will yield nothing for home consumption may leave the occupants much worse off.

The farms selected for study, though possibly a little more prosperous than the average, were fairly representative of their section, which included three corn and wheat belt states in the corn and wheat belt, two regions where general farming was carried on, and three dairy districts. The average value of the chief necessities of life—food, oil, and clothing—used on the farms by the farm family, the investigators found to be $395.08. Of these necessities, the farm family consumed $241.17, leaving $153.91 to be purchased from the outside market for the sale of products. In considering these figures it must be remembered that the farm family consumes a large quantity of its own products to pay city prices for its homegrown necessities. This $241.17 would have been reduced to $195.08 if the farm family consumed 60 per cent of the food consumed, groceries, and other necessities. The farm family consumed 60 per cent of the food consumed, groceries, and other necessities. The farm family consumed 60 per cent of the food consumed, groceries, and other necessities.

Of the food consumed, 60 per cent was furnished by the farm. Of the value of the food consumed, groceries, and other necessities, the farm family consumed 60 per cent of the food consumed, groceries, and other necessities. The farm family consumed 60 per cent of the food consumed, groceries, and other necessities. The farm family consumed 60 per cent of the food consumed, groceries, and other necessities.

Building Giant Aeroplanes

Number of Machines Has Increased Tenfold in Few Months

Great Britain is making preparations to carry on an aerial warfare on a gigantic scale. Under-Secretary for War, Lord Tennant, made the important admission in the house of commons in response to criticism by a member, who suggested that the German air forces were surpassing the British.

The government is now manufacturing a great aeroplane similar to the Russian Sikorsky, which carries five men and five tons of fuel. Lord Tennant announced. Within the past few months the number of British aeroplanes for war purposes has increased tenfold and the number of trained aviators fivefold.

"British aviators have demonstrated their superiority over the Germans," said Mr. Tennant. "Since February there has been no shortage of high-explosive bombs. On the contrary we have now a reserve supply ample for all purposes."

This statement was made in reply to the suggestion by a member of the house that more aeroplanes of character are needed to deal adequately with the raiding Zeppelins.

Exhausted From Asthma—Many who read these words know the terrible drain upon health and vitality which comes in the train of asthmatic troubles. Many do not realize, however, that there is one true remedy which will surely and speedily relieve their sufferings. It is sold almost everywhere.

The Political Parasites

While Canada's soldiers were trenching and preparing for Langemarck and all the hell and horror of shell and machine gun bombardment, and of indescribable suffering, politicians in Ottawa were profiteering on the bandages to be used for plugging the Canadian wounds. An order for $400,000 worth of band dressings had been placed, and the horror of so much wounding and suffering, which was the result of the profiteering on the bandages to be used for plugging the Canadian wounds.

Mrs. MacDonald's two nurses were spending their summer holidays at her residence. The day following their arrival being Sunday, they both accepted her invitation to accompany her to the church service. They were rather late in entering the church, and as the three pews in the aisle the minister was giving out his text, which read: "What are these which are arrayed in white robes?" The congregation were rather startled to hear Mrs. MacDonald making the reply: "They're my two nice fair Edinboro'!"

"You'll have to send for another doctor," said the one who had been called, after a brief glance at the patient. "Am I so ill as that?" gasped the sufferer. "I don't know just how ill you are," replied the man of medicine, "but I know your doctor is a very good one. I examined him when I appeared as an expert witness. My conscience won't let me kill you, and I'll be happy if I want to cure you. Good-day."

The old rate of one cent for each two ounces is continued for packages under 16 ounces. The weight limit is increased from four and one-half pounds to six pounds.

Price of Canned Goods

Likely to Remain Firm

Friction Has Arisen Regarding the Continuation of the Expired Trade Agreement but an Agreement is Expected

The price of canned goods, so far as manufacturers, wholesaler and retailer are concerned, is in a state of chaos and the goods are being sold to consumers at almost the cost of production, is largely exaggerated. It is a fact, however, that some friction has arisen regarding the continuation of the expired trade agreement, whereby the company sold the goods to the wholesaler at listed prices who in turn arranged with the retailer the prices at which the goods were to be disposed to the consumer, but this is only a matter of adjustment of the price of the goods. It has been informed, and it is expected by those capable to speak for the trade that an agreement will soon be reached.

In the meantime a few wholesalers and retailers, particularly the latter, who have a larger stock of canned goods than they care to carry, have taken advantage of the expired agreement by offering the goods at a reduced price in an endeavor to secure a better market, but after a canvass of the trade, the Journal of Commerce is in a position to state definitely the larger houses are holding firmly to the original prices and have no intention of selling at less. Future prices, however, will wholly depend upon what arrangement the trade comes to regarding the expired agreement which fixed such prices, but the general assumption is that the price of the goods will be maintained.

As pointed out in the Journal of Commerce recently, the industry has been a victim of the trade depression, but business in many respects is improving, the trade having received a considerable boost from the expectation that a better future is in store for the industry. The slackness in the trade was undoubtedly the cause of the rupture in the market, as some traders were presumably of the opinion that a better market could be obtained for goods if prices were reduced a little. —Journal of Commerce.

Steel Tie to Prevent Wrecks

A steel railroad tie has recently been patented in which a large plate will be placed with a large number of cross-ties. The tie is absolutely prevents rail spreading, and on account of its peculiar surface it makes an excellent road bed. The tie is made of steel, and human trespassers would have a difficult time following a railroad track if these ties were used.

Careful tests of the new ties on a railroad in Oklahoma show that they are as good as wooden ties. No spikes are necessary, and for the reason that the ties are self-aligning, the track can be decreased to one-half its usual size. In large quantities the steel ties represent a saving of $200 per mile of track.

PRINCESS PATRICIAS

"IN THE STONEWALLERS"

Part of a Brigade of No Regret

Major Arthur Haggard has been published a letter from a private in the Sherbrooke, who writes: "Our brigade was nicknamed the 'Stonewallers,' because no regiment comprising it ever lost a trench. We have been mentioned on this fact alone by the general. The Princess Patricia's is one of the regiments of this brigade. The general has given a great name by his gallant conduct. Anyone in the brigade will voice this opinion. I should like to fight by the side of such another regiment. Our brigade feels their heavy losses very keenly."

DAINTY FOOD

Turns Pale Cheeks to Pink

Our best physicians of the present day seek to cure patients by the use of food and drink, rather than by heavy drugs, and this is the true method, for many from food can be cured.

Many people, after living on poorly selected or badly cooked food for a long time, find that their system is chronically, expect the doctor, with some magic potency, to instantly rebuild them.

This is not possible. The only true method is to turn as quickly as can be, from poor food to good. A young lady writes: "I was variously treated for my nerves, stomach, lungs, etc., but none of them gave me relief. 'About a year ago when my appetite failed completely and I began to have a general feeling of weakness, I took all manner of tonics and stimulants, but they were of no effect. I had been told that drinking cod liver oil and taking Postum in its place and gradually began to get a little better. 'Someone suggested that if I found Postum so beneficial I had better use Grape-Nuts food, as they were both the children of one brain. I commenced on Grape-Nuts food for breakfast, having Postum in the afternoon. I found it really delicious, and appetizing that I always looked forward to breakfast with pleasure. 'After commencing this diet, the wretched pain in my side was entirely relieved, and now, a year later, it has gone entirely, also the skinning spells; in fact, my pale cheeks have changed to pink, my body has gained weight, and I am thoroughly well in every way. Name given by Canadian Postum Co. 'Wellsville, in page 'There's a Reason.' 'Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest."

Puzzles to the Blind

Lack of "Size Sense" Gives Them Odd Ideas About Animals

The path of the teacher of the blind is beset with many difficulties, one of the greatest being the lack of conveying to their mind some idea of the size, shape and features of birds and animals. In many cases, it is true, the animals are used, but owing to their small size they are, to say the least, of doubtful advantage.

The ignorance of blind children is great, often grotesque. A teacher of a class may find that a child does not know whether a young bird is a chicken or a hen, or even find that a large hare has wings. However carefully they are operated, a small number of children are only one-fourth the size of the real animal, more often than not they are unable to think of the animal as being any larger than the model and will stop and describe some standard of which they are sure. When asked to indicate the size of a cow, this arises from the fact that the standard of which they are sure is a small standard of which they are sure. When asked to indicate the size of a cow, this arises from the fact that the standard of which they are sure is a small standard of which they are sure.

Even today to teach sight is a task, and it is not long ago when a boy of about twelve recovered his sight after having been blind for several years following went about in a state of surprise and fear, for almost everything was new to him. The habit of touching frequently differed considerably in size from his recollection. The parents of the boy, who had been blind for many years, as he imagined they were much smaller. —Strand Magazine.

The present war has been responsible for various inventions to slay mankind in hidden positions, behind the lines, and in the air. One of the most successful of these inventions is the Zepplin, which seems an excellent method of attacking the enemy. The Zepplin is a large, rigid, airship, which is capable of carrying a large number of bombs, and is capable of attacking the enemy from the air.

Germans Try to Get to Calais Drop

At All Costs

When the Germans mounted a big attack on the coast of France, they were met by the British and French forces, who were determined to prevent them from reaching Calais. The Germans were determined to reach Calais at all costs, but the British and French forces were determined to prevent them from reaching Calais.

The situation is developing rapidly, and every indication, both in the pouring of troops into Western Belgium and the persistence of the attack, shows that this new advance is no mere feint, but another attempt to reach Calais.

There are many people who think that Calais is a sort of a will of the wind, which is leading on the Germans to do foolish things, by interrupting serious losses for a possible triumph. This is not a correct view of the situation. It is true that a German army at Calais would be impotent to strike a blow against England, just as impotent as was Napoleon's army at Belgium—until command of the English Channel was gained. Let the occupation of the port would be of enormous importance to Germany. It would give the Germans a base of operations, and it would not be underrated—advantages both moral and material.

The very beginning of the war the Germans have had two principal objects in view in their strategy in the west. The first was to reach England, and the second was to reach France. The Germans have been successful in reaching France, but they have not been successful in reaching England.

The moral and political effect of reaching Calais would be great, not only in Germany, but throughout Europe. It would determine the action of the Balkan states, and it would determine the action of the British and French forces. The Germans are determined to reach Calais at all costs, but the British and French forces are determined to prevent them from reaching Calais.

The object in view is not, however, merely moral and political. It is aimed at the physical conquest of the world. The Germans are determined to reach Calais at all costs, but the British and French forces are determined to prevent them from reaching Calais.

It is obvious that if big guns can be mounted in hidden positions, behind the lines, and in the air, the war will be a different one. The Germans are determined to reach Calais at all costs, but the British and French forces are determined to prevent them from reaching Calais.

There is nothing alarmist in these words. The Germans are determined to reach Calais at all costs, but the British and French forces are determined to prevent them from reaching Calais.

The Germans are determined to reach Calais at all costs, but the British and French forces are determined to prevent them from reaching Calais.

COLEMAN, ALBERTA, FRIDAY, MAY 19th, 1916

Editorial Comment

The financial report recently distributed in the Province by the central office of the South Alberta Branch of the Canadian Patriotic Fund, will no doubt prove to be a source of deep satisfaction to the people of Rocky Mountain constituency, and undoubtedly it should encourage us to strive to make an even better showing during the next few months.

That the industrial centres should make a better showing than the agricultural districts is no doubt accounted for by the fact that while the miner and other class of employee works on a wage or salary basis and is thus able to contribute a percentage of his earnings regularly, the farmer's principal income is received in the fall of the year only and he is therefore unable to hold up his end during each month of the year.

But while Rocky Mountain district has attained third place among the other constituencies in the matter of contributions to the Patriotic Fund, there is one other point that must not be lost sight of. Figures are not available at the moment, but we feel safe in asserting that if a comparison was made in the matter of recruits volunteering from the different districts, Rocky Mountain would be just as near the top of the list as it is in connection with its contributions to the Patriotic Fund. And the greater the number of recruits secured the more dependents will there be to be provided for.

All men cannot fight—those who remain at home must pay so that the man in khaki will know that those depending on him at home are being cared for. We have done well, but the demands upon the Patriotic Fund are constantly increasing and we must not let the work lag.

Every nation as well as every individual citizen has a right to conduct its own business as it sees fit, so long as other people's rights are not infringed. President Wilson and the United States of America are included in this observation. But when a nation which has for years made a boast of the axis of its flag, a nation whose commerce touches every part of the world, and a nation which places itself amongst the foremost powers of the world, allows the infamous Hun to side-step straight and intensely vital issues, then the citizens of that nation should not make complaint if their government is termed weak or vacillating.

The United States demanded a cessation of the destruction by Germany of neutral merchant ships carrying American citizens—at least the lives must be spared. There were no ifs about the American note—the Germans were to comply or diplomatic relations were to be severed. Germany makes reply. She will cease to destroy American citizens if America will join her in compelling Britain to lift the blockade against Germany.

If such a reply is not insolence it is very close to it. Yet President Wilson seems inclined to accept the assurance—if provided—etc.

A ROTTEN PROPOSAL

Employment of women for shell-making is one of the many methods of reducing the cost of the manufacture of shells suggested by the munitions section of the Canadian Manufacturers' association in a letter which has been sent to the shell-makers. Drawn up in the form of a four-page circular and signed by H. D. Seully, of Toronto, vice-president of the association, the circular says:

"That Britain's costs have been reduced through the employment of women on munitions work of all kind is apparent. Women are used almost exclusively on small shells and do some work on six inch shells. The use of women in Canadian factories should be carefully considered by Canadian contractors. By this the cost of labor could be greatly reduced."

How like the Canadian Manufacturers' Association! It seems the most natural thing in the world to read as above that they want to have Canadian munitions manufactured under their murderous sweat-shop methods. It would be quite alright to employ women in this work—but why in Heaven's name should they receive less money for their labor than men do when they perform exactly the same work? That outfit down East would "acquire" the rubber comfort from a six months-old baby if they thought they could save money (for themselves) by palming off a wooden substitute. Next!

Hits and Misses

Things to worry about: Only forty-two more days till prohibition.

A New York scientist says the punk weather we are having this year is caused by spots on the sun. Mayor Sinclair should send Archie McLeod up with a can of Old Dutch to polish 'im off.

A New York society girl has just married her third husband—a youth of 18 years. That damsel must be a regular boy scout.

Alberta is scheduled to go dry on the night of June 30th, and a dance is to be held in Coleman that evening. "Oh, what a gathering that will be!"

Last Sunday was "Mothers Day." Men may differ on matters of creed, business, politics, or any other of the activities of life; but that man is not to be trusted who will not agree that Mother is the best friend he ever had.

The importation from British Columbia of Japanese into the Southern Alberta coal fields followed quickly after the exportation of Austrians from this province to Cranbrook. Problem: Who got stung in that trade?

And now Uncle Sam talks of deporting George Buck—he of Black Diamond oil fame—on the ground that he is an undesirable citizen. Sure he is; and dog-gone it, that's just why the Alberta authorities want to bring him back to Calgary.

A naturalist named Professor Garner is on his way back to Africa to learn more monkey talk. He could have learned that language a lot easier by attending a few sessions of the Canadian Senate—or reading the Round-Up Kolum of the Calgary Herald.

Picture shows editor of Round-Up Kolum explaining monkey talk to Prof. Garner, who is studying paper.

The citizens and citizenesses of Calgary are now trying out what they call a day-light saving plan. They have moved their alarm clocks ahead one hour, so that the natives, up there get up an hour earlier every morning and (we presume) go to bed an hour earlier every night. "You can fool some of the people all the time, and all the people some of the time, but you cannot fool all the people all the time," is what Barnum used to say. Yet Mayor Costello seems to think that all Calgarians can fool themselves all the time. But just to keep his worship from getting too cheery about this stunt we would like to observe that early to bed and early to rise is all very well for sick folks and guys, but it makes a man miss half the fun till he dies. Go to bed when you please, and lie at your ease—you'll die just the same of some Latin disease.

Before the last issue was off the press Major Bagley and R. E. Campbell, M. P. P., called at The Bulletin office to congratulate us on the improved appearance of the paper, and to wish us every success in our new enterprise. Their kindly sentiment and interest was thoroughly appreciated. Incidentally, during a brief conversation it developed that the member for Rocky Mountain constituency and the editor of The Bulletin came originally from the same part of Ontario, their homes being within 20 miles of each other, and before either realized what was happening some of the old lacrosse battles for which Simcoe county was famous twenty years ago, and in many of which both the politician and the scribe participated, were being verbally fought over again. Here's hoping you get a chance to wallop the Germans, Bob, just like we used to wallop you fellows ampy-ump years ago.

Commissioner Mrs. Sowton (above) assisted by Col. Mrs. Turner, will be in Coleman on May 26th, and will deliver a lecture in the Presbyterian church at 8 p. m. on "India—on the borders of Tibet." The former has spent 8 years in that country, and a varied experience has been hers. Her ability as a speaker has been proven by the large audiences which have welcomed her everywhere and sat in rapt attention as she delivered her splendid address.

In connection with this lecture tickets will be on sale at 10c each and no collection will be taken.

Bellevue

See Haddad Bros. ad on this page Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wolstenholme moved to their ranch at South Fork on Sunday.

Pie. C. Burrows had his leg broken in two places. He is doing well at the hospital.

Mrs. E. C. McDonald, who has been visiting at Athabasca Landing, returned home again this week.

Miss Sadie Alexander met some old friends at Blairmore while visiting there this week.

Mrs. Curphy, of Cowley, was visiting her son-in-law in camp this week.

Wanted—someone to get in touch with the weather men to see if he cannot give a change.

One of Bellevue's peaceful citizens paid $10.25 for hitting a younger man the other day.

Two of Bellevue's young people were married at Blairmore on Sunday last. They will reside here in future, and their many friends wish them a long and prosperous life.

Pte. Alexander and E. Bolesey went to the North Fork this week to do some seedling.

John Crawford went to Calgary to meet his wife, who has been at the coast for some time.

Hillcrest

A grand concert and dance was held in the Hillcrest Hall under the auspices of the Miners' Union for the benefit of J. Brown, who has been unable to work for a considerable time.

Considering the short time the ladies had in which to prepare refreshments, there was a very good supper provided.

The merchant, with his usual kindness supplied the coffee, tea, sugar, etc. To begin the concert, the moving picture operator put two good reels on the screen.

The two Bellevue comedians gave two breezy sketches. Mrs. F. Smith and Mrs. Anderson also favored the audience with excellent selections, both ladies receiving a hearty encore.

The entertainment was brought to a close by Corp. Carp giving a lively clog dance.

After the concert the chairman, Mr. Drennan, presented a wrist watch to most of the men who have enlisted from Hillcrest in the "Mountain Lions" the 102nd battalion. Sergt. Warner being entrusted with the residue of watches belonging to some of the men who were not present.

Sergt. Warner was called upon to give a speech, and delivered a brilliant oration, but sorry to say space will not allow the speech in detail.

The dance hall was crowded and everybody had a good time. Music was supplied by Messrs. Bradshaw, Williams and Miller. It is pleasing to note that the Hillcrest miners are always ready to give a lift.

Blairmore

Blairmore, May 18.—An interesting event took place here, in the Anglican church, after the regular morning service, when William Sechoff and Christine Leskosek, both of Bellevue, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. H. Clay. The bride was given away by her father, and was attended by her sister, Miss M. Leskosek. After the ceremony the happy couple motored to Bellevue.

Mrs. Percy Shaw (wife of Major Shaw) of Bellevue, was a visitor in town on Monday and Tuesday.

Miss Perkins, of the school staff, spent the holiday week-end out of town.

Mr. Smallwood, who has been undergoing treatment for rheumatism at Banff, has returned. His many friends hope that he has quite recovered.

The dance in aid of the Catholic church, which was held in the opera house here on Tuesday last, was well attended. Those present voted an exceptionally good time.

The funeral of Mah Lee took place on Friday last. Interment in the Blairmore cemetery. Deceased was over eighty years of age and leaves three sons. Two in Blairmore and one in China.

The ladies of the Red Cross Society held their weekly meeting in the school on Tuesday afternoon. A large attendance of members were present and a goodly amount of work done was reported.

L. H. Putnam, the well known lawyer, has joined the 101st battalion at McLeod and is busy bringing his business to a close. Lawyer Putnam will be missed in his legal capacity. His friends wish him a safe return.

The epidemic of measles is still raging. Reports from the school show that the junior classes are the ones that are suffering. New cases are reported daily.

When the mayor of the town, and the editor of the Blairmore Enterprise, accompanied by the chief of police were sport shooting at Passburg the mayor won the laurels. Length doesn't always count.

The new pulpit, so generously presented by a member of long standing, and for which the congregation feel deeply grateful, was used for the first time in the Anglican church last Sunday.

Remember the sale of work at Coleman, on Saturday next, May 20th, at 3:30 p.m. There will be a sale of garments etc. at St. Alban's Parish Hall. The ladies of Blairmore are having a stall and hope their Coleman friends will rally around them.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

H. G. Goodeve made a business trip to Macleod this week.

Thos. Crahan, of Michel, is spending a few days in town this week.

Mayor Morrison made a business trip to Bellevue and points east this week.

Geo. Pattinson, of Frank, was among those who motored to the lake on Sunday.

Rev. D. K. Allan and family arrived in Coleman from Vulcan on Thursday morning.

Alex. Cameron expects to leave on the first of June on a business and pleasure trip to Winnipeg.

Manager White of the Western Canadian Co-Operative Store spent the early part of the week in Calgary.

Quite a number of Russians have recently left The Pass for their home country to join the forces of the Czar.

Const. Potter, R. N. W. M. P., leaves the first of the month on a holiday trip to Prince Albert and other Saskatchewan points.

Capt. Cameron and Lieut. Campbell were successful in passing their recent examinations at the Calgary military school.

Mayor Morrison is having commodious offices fitted up in the Hill block, opposite the Rex Theatre. T. W. Davies is doing the work.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Upton, of Pincher Creek, spent Sunday as guests of Inspector and Mrs. Junget, of Blairmore. During the day an auto drive to the lake was enjoyed.

Attention is again called to the military dance to be held in the opera house (Friday) evening under the auspices of the Coleman company of the 192nd. Don't miss it.

Fred Cox goes to Calgary soon to attend the spring sessions of the supreme court. His application for annulment of his marriage to Miss Baker comes up at this sitting of the court.

Copy for changes of advertisements in The Bulletin MUST reach this office not later than Tuesday forenoon of each week. Business men will confer a favor by keeping this in mind.

With the big cement plant in full swing, the McLaren Lumber Mill and the mines in operation, as well as being military headquarters for the district, Blairmore presents quite a busy appearance these days.

Two barrels of black analino dye, used in the shoe trade, which sells regularly at $30 a barrel, were auctioned off recently in an American city and brought the fabulous price of $24,000 for the two barrels.

The Lethbridge Herald issued a very creditable special supplement on Saturday, dealing in a thorough and comprehensive manner with the resources, development and possibilities of the district which it serves.

The Lethbridge Herald is off again on one of its "Shortage-of-miners-in-The-Pass" rambles. The Herald should send a man up here to get a squirt at the number of men who daily sit about the nine offices looking for work.

There are quite a few cases of measles in Coleman, but the medical health officer has taken prompt and effective measures to prevent an epidemic. The public school is closed this week-end and the building is being thoroughly fumigated.

C. J. Stevens has lost his delivery horse. "Old Bill" was turned loose as per usual a couple of weeks ago, but when his owner attempted to locate him a few days later he could not be found. A substantial reward is being offered for his recovery.

On Tuesday, June 6th, W. L. Quimette is going to give away a sum of money. Call at the store and ask about it.

No, Madam, you are not guilty of an offence against the Empire if you happen to be harboring German measles in your home. Nevertheless, the medical health officer is justified in "interning" these alien enemies as soon as they are "caught."

Rev. Young, of Frank, delivered his splendid illustrated lecture at several points in the Pincher Creek district this week. The lantern slides used in connection with this lecture are all in connection with Rev. Young's work in The Pass during the past few years and are well worth seeing.

The Provincial Government has patched up the road through The Pass this spring, and the Coleman council had the main road through West Coleman graded and gravelled. Now, if the Blairmore council would fix up that piece of road at the west end of the town, the auto drivers of The Pass would all be happy.

It will pay you to read the advertisements in this issue of The Bulletin.
